Hii!! I'm Chaplin and I live in Mumbai. You must have heard how hustly-bustly the city is. I live in a packed apartment with my busy parents and two naughty brothers. One is Charlie and the other, 'Ouch!! Why are you pushing me Marlie!!??'. Yes, this is my younger brother Marlie. Do you know the one good habit I learnt through a super interesting dream? Let's go into my story.

Every day when my mother gives me healthy and fresh veggies, I say a big 'NOOOO!!'. Even if she forces me to eat them, I simply hide it in my hands and throw it in the dustbin. At school, I toss them away just like that. I was missing most of my school days as I was sick staying at home. As days passed by, I became more lazier and weaker. One day, my parents were at work and my brothers were at school and I was deep asleep.....

I HAD A DREAM!!! I was carried by a bubble above the sky and suddenly the bubble popped. I screamed aloud and fell down like a meteor falling from the sky. Suddenly, a butterfly caught me and took off like a plane. We flew for miles and miles and finally reached a garden full of fresh leafy vegetables. But I was extremely angry and yelled at the butterfly and said 'Get me out of this disgusting place!! Now!!'.

Then we started to fly again above the skies, far, far away. It took me to a land made of chocolates. There were cotton candy trees, choco-cookie houses and marshmallow beds which was so soft. There were so many flowers made of caramel and also chocolate milk flowing as river. “So delightful, isn’t it?” I started eating everything I found there. I was bellyful and could take no more I noticed that I had become a chocolate myself!!! When I turned, ‘Oh no... RUN...’, a hive of bees were chasing me. I suddenly realised that I had no way to go and stopped running. The bees swarmed at me and started to sting. I felt so painful and closed my eyes.

When I opened my eyes, I was at my school ground standing on the track event, ready to run. I thought that I am the fastest of all and I would win. The whistle blew and I started to run but immediately fell down, unable to move. I walked past the other runners and sat on the bench under a big apple tree. Then I started crying. I noticed a butterfly beside me and when I turned my head to look at it closely, it turned into a fairy. The fairy gave me an apple to eat and asked me to go run again. I did the same and YAAHOO!!, I won the race!! Yay!! I could hear her voice telling me that eating healthy fruits and vegetables will make me strong and mighty. She was shaking my shoulder and shouted “Chaplin.. Chaplin.. wake up!!!Enough of sleeping you sleepy head!!'. What??!! A fairy calling me sleepy head!! "Oh! No! It was my brother Marlie waking me up out of my dream.

I realised that the dream made sense and brought a change in my life. I could still hear the fairy's voice telling me that I would be a successful athlete and you can see my prizes and awards decked up in my shelf.

Now, it's time to reveal what was the dream that changed YOUR life??
